

ROBBED SEN. CRANE'S HOUSE

Burglars Secured Over $1,000 Worth of Silverware

WHILE OCCUPANTS SLEEP

The Intruders Secreted Themselves in the House Yesterday—There Is No Clue to Their Identity To-day.

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 23.—The residence of United States Senator W. Murray Crane in this place was burglarized last night, the robber securing silverware valued at over $1,000. Many of the articles stolen were valuable wedding presents to Senator and Mrs. Crane on the occasion of their marriage recently.

The burglars secreted themselves in the house probably during the day-time yesterday. They worked so stealthily that neither Senator Crane nor his wife was awakened; nor were the servants awakened, either. The burglary was not discovered until this morning. No clues to the robbers could be found.

FIRE MADE PANIC AMONG FORTY GIRLS

Several Became Hysterical and Tried to Jump From Top of The Building—The Cause of Fire Not Known.

Boston, Oct. 23.—Fire which spread with great rapidity through the four floors of the wooden building occupied by the Bunker Hill Laundry company at 14 Dunstable street, Charlestown, just before the closing hour last night, completely destroyed the plant and caused a panic among the forty girls employed in the place. The fire was confined to the building and caused a loss of $25,000.

The fire started from some unknown cause in the store room on the second floor and most of the girls were working on the third and fourth floors. They were able to make their way out of the building by the narrow stairway on the front of the building. Three girls became hysterical, however, and rushed to the top of the building. Engineer E. D. Moore and Supt. C. F. Hill went after them and kept them from jumping from the high windows.

Susie McConnell, Charlestown, Kitty O'Neill of Malden and Kitty Barnett of Boston were taken in charge by the two men and led back to the second floor, from where they were dropped out of a window to the roof of a shed and from there taken down by men in the street. No one was injured. The building was owned by the Winchester estate, the first floor being occupied by the overall department conducted by Monroe & Connolly.

The second floor was a store room while the two upper floors were used for laundering linen goods under the proprietorship of Turner & Unone. Edward N. Stillman, a carpenter, had a shop on the second floor.

As the property is surrounded by stables and the freight sheds of the Boston and Maine railroad and there appeared danger of the fire spreading to these places three alarms were sound ed, calling the apparatus from the city proper. The fire was confined to the Bunker Hill laundry company's building, however.

The loss on the building was $10,000 while the loss on the machinery and stock of the laundry company made the total damage $25,000.

CALLS HIS ARREST A CAMPAIGN MOVE

So Says Broughton Brandenburg, Who Sold the Cleveland Letter to the New York Times—He Was Arrested in Dayton, O.

Dayton, Ohio, Oct. 23.—As he was boarding a train for New York City here yesterday afternoon, Broughton Brandenburg was arrested by local detectives on the charge of forgery and grand larceny. A telegram from the New York City police department advised the local department to hold Brandenburg. He is alleged to have sold the New York Times a letter which he represented to have been written by Grover Cleveland, in which the dead statesman predicted the election of Taft, and which letter is now declared to have been a forgery. Brandenburg was locked up in the police station, as the amount of his bail was not fixed.

In a statement issued last night, Brandenburg says he had the proper authority from Mrs. Cleveland and from Mr. Hastings, co-executor of the Cleveland estate, before he sold the article to the Times, and furthermore asks if it is reasonable that any sane man would falsify the utterances of an ex-president of the United States for $120. At the time he was arrested he says he was on his way to New York City to give District Attorney Jerome additional evidence. He says the arrest was made by those interested in offsetting the influence of Mr. Cleveland's utterances, who wished "to secure a dramatic climax just before election."

WENT INTO A DITCH.

Automobile Party Tossed in the Air at Greenville R. I.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 23.—In a sensational automobile accident at Greenville, eight miles outside of this city, last evening, C. Alonzo Cameron of Springfield, Mass., was badly injured and S. T. Bowles, H. H. Moore and W. F. Cook, also prominent citizens of that city, miraculously escaped death. Mr. Moore and Mr. Cook were hurled sixteen feet into a churchyard. Mr. Cameron, his chauffeur, H. G. French, and Mr. Bowles were pinned under the car.

The party was trying out a new car, owned by Mr. Cameron, an automobile merchant, and which Mr. Bowles was contemplating purchasing.

They came down the hill, just before entering the village of Greenville, at a rapid rate. Cameron, Moore and Cook were in the tonneau. The chauffeur and Bowles were in the front seat.

When the machine crossed the green in front of the white church at Greenville, the chauffeur evidently miscalculated his direction and the car shot forward in the direction of the church. Before French could reverse or turn the automobile it had plumped into a small ditch bordering the church fence.

The car toppled over. Moore and Cook flew through the air and landed in the church yard. Bowles and the chauffeur were thrown into the ditch and Cameron was pinned under the car.

Mr. Moore's head was cut, but the rest of the party with the exception of Mr. Cameron, sustained but a slight shaking up.

KILLS GIRL AFTER ASKING HER TO WED

Holyoke Boy Told Police He Committed The Crime For Revenge.

Holyoke, Mass., Oct. 23.—Enraged because Cassie Beaudry, a girl to whom he was engaged, refused to answer his question as to whether she would keep her promise to marry him, Arthur Bourdeau, Jr., shot and killed the girl last night at her home, 150 Main street.

Bourdeau made no attempt to escape, and when arrested in his home 30 minutes later it was found that he confessed to Officer Seney that he had committed the deed for revenge, and was willing to take the consequences.

Bourdeau had known Miss Beaudry for four years and it is said they were to be married the 12th of next month. He called at the home and the murdered girl's sister and brother heard Bourdeau ask Cassie if she had decided to marry him. She said, "I cannot give you an answer tonight," and he immediately fired the two shots, one passing through the girl's heart and the other going wild. She ran through the room in which her brother and sister were, dropping dead in another room just beyond.

The murdered girl's mother ran out and told Bourdeau to get a doctor. He went direct to his home, throwing away the revolver on the way.

The jeweler was showing the stranger a tray of diamonds when the latter suddenly drew a revolver and fired two shots. He was pursued by the jeweler who grappled with him. In the struggle Tannenholz was shot. The robber escaped in a taxicab presumably driven by a confederate.

13 ABSENT IN THE HOUSE

It Will be Unlucky for Them When Called on

TO PRESENT THE REASONS

Legislators Are Showing the Effects of Too Much Social Dissipation—Many New Bills Introduced.

State House, Oct. 23, 1908.

After the social dissipation of the hall the night before, the legislators convened at 10 o'clock, almost in toto. Sixteen bills were introduced in the House and three in the Senate. According to the terms of the resolution adopted by the House for Tuesday and Friday roll calls, it was announced that the proceeding would commence. Mr. Daniels of East Montpelier moved that the roll call be dispensed with, but Mr. Fletcher of Cavendish stated that he hoped the motion would not prevail and it did not. For the legislators were there in a body and wanted an official record of the same. It was found that but thirteen were absent from the full membership of the House.

It was moved that adjournment be taken until Monday afternoon, and this motion prevailed, as many of the legislators have felt the strain of the week's social engagements and want to accompany their families home this afternoon. In the Senate, however, no provision was made for an adjournment earlier than usual, the members of that body being apparently more socially stalwart, but it was expected that the session this afternoon will be a short one.

Two important taxation bills came into the Senate this morning relating to offsets, and these were immediately referred to the committee on taxation. The first was by Senator Bliss of Washington county. It permits offsets only for such debts as shall be recorded on file in the town clerk's office. Debits, however, contracted for the purpose of purchase of real or personal property may be offset if the property has been in possession of the debtor for three months and is included in the inventory. Senator Gibson of Windham had a bill which confines the right of offset to such debts as are owing to persons without the state or to foreign corporations. In the Senate, also, the resolution relating to the appointment by the governor of three lawyers to look into the question of amendment to the constitution of the state and report before the next legislative session was adopted. This resolution was adopted in the House on Thursday.

Senator Butler of Rutland introduced a joint resolution relating to the arrangement of the constitution and this was referred to the judiciary committee.

An Incident of Yesterday.

Following is an interesting verbatim sketch taken from what transpired at the election of judges of the court of claims yesterday afternoon. Mr. Finn, in his well known stentorian tones, brought the House down in his hot but breezy speech.

Senator Gibson: Mr. President, I arise to make a nomination for this most important office, and I want to take you all into my confidence. Notwithstanding the able and eloquent remarks of the senator from Windsor county, it was well understood between us that if Judge Leavins was re-elected, and I take great pleasure, gentlemen, in placing in nomination the honorable senator from Windsor county, the Hon. E. B. Finn.

Senator Corry: I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Judge Finn. There is not anyone in either house who wants the office worse than Judge Finn.

He was elected viva voce.

Judge Finn: I thank this general assembly for this renewed mark of confidence. I think that is what they always say, but if I am to be in at the death of this honorable court, I think I ought to have the privilege accorded me of nominating the tail end of that court. There is no position within the gift of this legislature that requires so little learning, so little judgment, so little legal ability, so little standing at home or abroad, as a third judge of the court of claims. I have filled it myself and I can think of no one within all our borders better equipped for this position than I am myself, except Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro. I take pleasure, very great pleasure, in presenting for your consideration the name of Hon. Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro.

Following election of Senator Gibson by viva voce he rose and said: Isn't there some provision in the constitution or in the law which provides that a man shall not hold more than one judicial position at a time?

Judge Finn: It is not judicial; it is ornamental.

The new revolving doors for the Hall of Representatives have arrived and will be installed at once. These doors are of the latest model and will prevent drafts which result from the constant opening and shutting of the doors as they now are. The revolving doors are devices as are owing to persons without the state or to foreign corporations. In the Senate, also, the resolution relating to the appointment by the governor of three lawyers to look into the question of amendment to the constitution of the state and report before the next legislative session was adopted. This resolution was adopted in the House on Thursday.
